

Watch for Alligators

Mrs. L. E. Graves, who lives on the Kila Road, reported Monday to the Sea Coast Echo that an alligator was seen by her, in a bayou just north of James Construction Co. office on the Kila Road.

She also stated that frequently teenagers used some of these waters as swimming places. She wanted to warn the public of such a danger.

She also stated that at the same location, where the 8-10 foot alligator was seen by her last Sunday, teenagers were seen swimming.

Denies Rumors

Nels Sand, son of Mrs. Minnie Sand of Bay St. Louis reported to the Sea Coast Echo this week, that rumors have been circulated in the Bay area connecting him with recently protesting of the American Flag at the Kilmer Job Corp Center, Edison, New Jersey.

Sand stated that he was enrolled at the job center and did take part in some of the protest marches, that were done in protest of the proposed closing of the center, but he denies ever taking part in any detrimental show of conduct towards the American Flag.

BROWNIE TROOPS under the leadership of Mrs. Bob Hallbauer, Mrs. Brent Hodge, Mrs. Denton Threest, and Mrs. Floyd Wilkerson recently took members of the troop or fire department demonstration. Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Billy Carbonette and assistant Floyd Page showed members of the troop the basic use of a fire hose. Members of the troop are as follows: Donna Farve, Annie Wilkerson, Ony Fayard, Sheila Wilkerson, Yvonne Green, Virginia Lewis, Donna Farve, Annie Wilkerson, Ony Fayard, Sheila Wilkerson, Yvonne Green, Virginia Lewis, Thompson, Julie Hallbauer, Lora Hodge, Theresa Bourgeois, Tracy Levens, Susie Carter, Tracy Morell, Denna Schaefer, Tina Negrette, Candy Huber, Mary Oliver, Diane Ramond, Susan Ramond, Gina Sivori, Carolyn Story, Charlotte Story, and Donna Threest.

Parade of Fishing Vessels To be Featured at Rodeo

An impressive parade of fishing vessels will participate in Blessing of the Fleet ceremonies, second day event in the annual Hancock County Mississippi Fishing Rodeo, on June 13, 14, and 15. Captains from Gulfport, Pass Christian, and Hancock County are being registered by Fleet Chaplain Father Kelly of St. Augustine's Seminary. A trophy will be awarded for the best decorated vessel.

Ticket sales indicate that interest in the three day fishing competition is mounting. The $2.00 donation entitles the holder of a ticket to a chance on the registration prize, (an outboard motor), to participate in the three day fishing competition, attend the big Square Dance Festival at sundown June 13, admittance to the reserved area at the Fleet Blessing, and admittance to Rodeo Headquarters on Award Day.

Anyone who presents the ticket at the weigh station will receive a free souvenir doubloon.

Collectors can secure the 1969 doubloon for 50¢ or a set of the '68 and '69 doubloons for $1.00 from the Hancock County Mississippi Fishing Rodeo, Inc., Box 174, Pearllington, Mississippi.

Fishermen who have not yet obtained a Mississippi Fishing license will find Game Warden Pat Toomey at Rodeo Headquarters ready to issue one for a $3.00 fee.

Many valuable awards await lucky anglers in a wide range of categories. All entries must be brought to the Weighmaster at Rodeo Fishing Camp before noon on June 15th. Tickets are available at marinas and marine supply dealers throughout the area and may also be obtained at Rodeo Headquarters, or at the association's mailing address.

Benefit Game
A benefit softball tournament and shooting match for Casey Jones will be held Sunday May 25 at 9:00 a.m. The place for the occasion will be Lader's Friendly Inn, Ansley, Miss. Donald Saucier will sponsor a barbecue chicken dinner, first aid tests.

Public Library Appoints Two Staff Members

Appointment of two new members to the staff of the City-County Public Library were announced this week by Mrs. Watson G. Prindle, coordinator of the library program. Both will serve as classification librarians.

Mr. Martin Ellis is returning to the staff. Mrs. Joseph Price (now working part-time with the library) and will assume full-time duties June 1. She has been teaching French and assisting in the library at Valera C. Jones School for a number of years.

Announcement also was made that Mrs. Harold Gilmore, children's librarian for a number of years, leaves Thursday on an extended leave of absence. She will go to the Virginia suburbs of Washington, D. C., to be with her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Hamilton and family.

Mrs. Prindle commends the efforts of Mrs. Gilmore in building the best collection in the state for children's text and illustrations.

The children's section of the staff at five members. Mrs. T. A. Humphrey, the new chief librarian since the retirement of the late Mrs. Louise Crawford and Mrs. Richard Means has been successful librarian since that facility was added last fall.

Meanwhile, plans are proceeding to move the library facilities June 1 from their present Court Street site to the building at Ocean and Ocean Avenue formerly occupied by Dave McDonald's.

Hancock County Report

actively engage in a labor procurement program. This was undertaken and, as of press time, more than 130 Hancock County residents had registered with the commission for consideration as Outriggers, Inc., personnel.

Port director Hill has just returned from a selling trip to other states and, if all goes well, the port development will soon be the site of multi-industries.

This hasn't happened overnight and it hasn't happened as the result of ship-dock county promotion.

Industry is considering Hancock for many reasons but not least among these is their reaction to the hell-fire determination of some county folk to at least try and provide payrolls and a hiked economy.

The port commission realizes the public is impatient for the establishment of industry at the west county facility but it does point out that the port is not yet ready for extensive industrial influx. Temporary measures have been effected for Outriggers, Inc., who do not require a railroad for instance, but it will be another six months before the port and harbor undertaking is fully 'ready and waiting.'

Projects underway at the port right now include clearing of 80 acres of site needed for very interested prospect, installation of deep water well and water distribution system, construction of a railroad spur access grade, creation of drainage ditches through industrial sites, leveling and grading of Outriggers' property, installation of pilings, later to be utilized as centers for 'dolphins'; located industry canal cutting, planning for future development direction of public dock areas, etc.

Although the Hancock Port and Harbor Commission tried to advance completion dates and yet stay within the bounds of its construction funds, it is unfortunate but necessary to note that the county has already lost the interest of several industrial prospects because all facilities were not in operational condition.

Present port commissioners are Donald Landry, president; Elliott Casanova, vice president; Augustus Elmer, Jr., treasurer; Harold Wilson, secretary; Oliver Frierson, John Scafie, and Louis Breaux.

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission gathers on the second Thursday of each month in regular session, in its office back of Gulf National Bank Bldg., US-80, Bay St. Louis. These sessions are open to the public and commence at 7:30 p.m. Business for the commission should be presented at this time.

Well, the port has taken up about all the space allowed so, next week the subject of the airport will be the only topic. Sufficient to say now is that the airport is being turned into a jet-age freight handling facility and will offer the county another, brand new source of employment and payrolls.

Persons desirous of receiving the new Hancock County Port and Harbor information package, which includes statistics on the new airport, have specific requests concerning information required of various county agencies, or have inquiries to this column, all of which are welcome, should contact Neville R. Jacob, public relations officer, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, P.O. Box 69, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520.

Deaise-Shanahan Dows Exchanged

Miss Brenda Deaise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Deaise of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Carl E. Shanahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shanahan Sr., of Jackson at 7 p.m. May 3, in Shoreline Baptist Chapel.

The Rev. Wayne Fleming performed the double ring ceremony before an arch trimmed with white and yellow tapers and baskets of white and yellow carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a knee-length dress of Chantilly lace with a neckline and long sleeves. Her shoulder length veil edged with lace and a band of silk material carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with white orchids.

Miss Jeanne Waterhouse, maid of honor and John Shanahan Jr., served his brother's best man. The maid of honor wore a white lace dress, matching short veil and carried a cascade of yellow carnations. A reception followed at the home of David Shanahan where the bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, held a three-tiered cake topped with the traditional bride and groom, flanked by candelabra holding yellow tapers.

Mrs. Shanahan, a 1968 graduate of Bay High School, graduated from American Beauty College in 1969.

The bridegroom attended school in Jackson and is presently employed with Winn-Dixie in La Place, La., where they will make their home.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Shanahan Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Roland Robertson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shanahan and son and John Shanahan Jr., all of Jackson, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Damens and family, Mrs. Mildred Paulino, New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. David Tate and family, Felix and Cynthia Ladner, Picayune; and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Deaise, Hattiesburg.

Earl Warren Supports Stricter Law on Judicial Ethics

By Drew Pearson

Inside fact is that Chief Justice Earl Warren for six years has been quietly supporting a law to set up a code of ethical conduct for the federal judiciary. If this had been adopted there would have been no Fortas case, for all judges would have been required to file for public inspection their outside income.

A similar code has now been adopted for the House of Representatives following the Thomas Dodd and Adam Clayton Powell investigation, and is the healthiest development in Capitol Hill for honesty in government in congressional history.

Unfortunately, the Senate, despite public indignation over Sen. Tom Dodd's behavior, did not go as far as the House. While Senators are required to list such outside income as book royalties, magazine and lecture fees, they are not required to publish their much bigger and more real income such as legal retainers, stock and bond investments.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois is not required, for instance, to list the income from his Peoria law firm despite suggestion that he sometimes goes to bat for his law clients on the floor of the Senate.

JUDICIAL MISCONDUCT
Chief Justice Warren's concern over a judicial code of ethics stems from the fact that there is a borderline area, not clearly defined, in which judges may receive fees, Fortas was in this borderline area.

Such a case was that of Judge Harold Medina of the U.S. Court of Appeals in New York who, during most of his judicial career, was vice president of the J.A. Medina Coffee Company. Judge and Mrs. Medina were also featured in a paid Pan American Airways advertisement carried by Time magazine in January, 1954, promoting travel on Pan Am. That same week an antitrust suit was filed by the Justice Department against Pan Am in the Southern District of New York, the jurisdiction in which Judge Medina sits.

During the Roosevelt administration, there was a tough crack-down on judicial corruption. In the case of Judge Medina, the crack-down was not complete. Judge Medina, indignant, resigned. And ethical improvement then stopped. It even retrograded under Eisenhower. There was the initial spectacle of Nixon's $18,000 personal expense fund in 1952 which may have helped set the tone for the Eisenhower administration. For it was followed by the forced resignations of Harold Tamm, Secretary of the Air Force; Sherman Adams, assistant to Eisenhower; Peter Stroh of the General Services Administration; Richard Mack of the Federal Communications Commission; Carl O. Hansen of the Farm Home Administration, all because of conflicts of interest.

There was also the case of the home at the Alhambra, E. C., golf course especially built for Eisenhower by his big business friends, the equipment and refurbishing of the Gettysburg farm by wealthy contributors and the subsidizing of all farm expenses by W. Allen Jones of Cities Service, Billy Byars and George E. Allen.

Today, however, ethical standards in the executive branch of government are high.

MISSISSIPPI CAPITOL NEWS
HEBER LADNER SECRETARY OF STATE

"All free male inhabitants between the age of 16 and 50 shall be liable to, and perform Military duty, and be equally divided into Corps of horse and foot, and formed in the following manner. Sixty-four rank and file shall form a company of Infantry, Rifleman, or a Troop of horse. . . These words are the opening paragraph of an order issued by the first Governor of Mississippi, Winthrop Sargent, and dated September 8, 1798. This is the beginning of the state militia, or as better known today, the Mississippi National Guard.

Rich in history and decorated with citations, ood domestic and foreign, the Mississippi National Guard stands as one of the nation's foremost military organizations. The far-reaching missions of the Guard touch every community in Mississippi and in many instances throughout the world.

Older than the State of Mis-issippi, the National Guard has fought to defend this country in every war since 1798. One of the best known Guardsmen was Jefferson Davis, who resigned his seat in Congress to lead the First Mississippi Regiment, at Buena Vista on February 22, 1847, with the Mexicans five numbering the Americans five to one, General Zachary Taylor called on Davis and the First Mississippi Regiment to help stem the Mexican tide. Moving quickly into the assault, Colonel Davis gave but one Order: "Stand Fast, Mississippians."

There is more to the National Guard than serving on active duty in time of national emergency or in time of war. Guardsmen are called when there is trouble within the state. Today's National Guard represents every community in the state. The citizen-soldiers have assisted law enforcement officials and have aided residents of areas struck by hurricanes and tornadoes. The present National Guard ranks among the best.

Smith County Agricultural Agent urges Hancock county farmers to cooperate in the annual mid-year Crop and Livestock Survey to be conducted by the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in late May and early June. The Mississippi surveys are a part of a Nation-wide effort to provide information on crop acreages and livestock numbers. Ray B. Converse, the State Agricultural Statistician, advises that about 3 per cent of the farmers in Mississippi will be interviewed by trained enumerators. Another 15 percent of the farmers will receive mailed questionnaires for use in making their report.

DAIRY FEEDING
Cows need more grain feed when they are fresh and this is when they will make more money for you. If the cow is a good one, an extra pound of grain feed will usually result in two extra pounds of milk.

Try this test on your cows. When they freshen, increase the grain feeding. Watch closely and see if your production climbs. See if the over production does not over pay for the increase grain.

Continue to give your milking cows the best forage - hay, silage or grazing available. The better forage you feed the more the grain will be worth to your cows.

SOYBEAN FERTILIZATION
Soybeans have gained a reputation as a crop that does not respond to fertilization. This reputation is not completely justified and may lead to mismanagement and lower yields. A recent USDA survey showed that only 28 percent of our soybean acreage received any fertilizer and the average rate on that fertilized acreage was only six pounds of phosphate and 12 pounds of potash per acre.

To determine just how much fertilizer the soybeans do need on your land, the soil's test is the best answer. In the absence of a soil test apply 40 to 60 pounds each of phosphate and potash per acre.

Smith County Agricultural Agent urges Hancock county farmers to cooperate in the annual mid-year Crop and Livestock Survey to be conducted by the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in late May and early June. The Mississippi surveys are a part of a Nation-wide effort to provide information on crop acreages and livestock numbers. Ray B. Converse, the State Agricultural Statistician, advises that about 3 per cent of the farmers in Mississippi will be interviewed by trained enumerators. Another 15 percent of the farmers will receive mailed questionnaires for use in making their report.

Information developed from these surveys is important to growers as well as those working to promote agriculture. Because of the need for and importance of good information, all farmers called upon for this data are urged to give their full cooperation.

A Conservative View

by James J. Kilpatrick

Fifteen years have passed since that historical Monday morning in the court room: Every seat taken the counsel tables crowded, the reporters jammed in their pillared cubicles at the side. Word had spread that an opinion was coming down in the four test cases on school segregation.

Then Chief Justice Warren was reading from the printed text before him: "These cases come to us from the States of Kansas, South Carolina, Virginia, and Delaware. . . In each of these cases, minors of the Negro race, through their legal representatives, seek the aid of the courts in obtaining admission to the public schools of their community on a non-segregated basis. . ."

Warren scarcely moved his massive head: "The plaintiffs contend that segregated public schools are not 'equal' and cannot be made 'equal,' and that hence they are deprived of the equal protection of the laws."

So far there was nothing to indicate the court's ruling. Thurgood Marshall was there, his face racked by tension. Then the drift of the opinion became evident. Marshall gave way to relief, then to tears. Warren at last reached the key question before the court: Does school segregation in itself, regardless of facilities, violate the Constitution? "We believe that it does," No Justice dissented.

That was Brown v. Board of Education, now enshrined in the court reports as 347 U.S. 483. In any listing of the greatest cases ever decided by the court, Brown surely would rank among the top ten. On that fateful Monday, seventeen Southern and border States still maintained racially separate public schools. Pupils also were segregated by race in the District of Columbia. In the tick of a clock, though formal decrees would be delayed for more than a year, an era ended.

Many of the principal figures in the case have died or disappeared from the public view. Of the nine judges who heard argument in December of 1952, only Black and Douglas remain on the court. Reed and Clark are retired; Vinson, Jackson, Frankfurter, Burton and Minton are dead. Death also has taken two of the leading attorneys for the South—T. Justin Moore and John W. Davis. Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the plaintiffs, has become the first Negro ever to sit on the high court. One of his associates, the able Spottswood W. Robinson, sits on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington.

Most of the actual plaintiffs and defendants have dropped out of sight. The case took its name from the Rev. Oliver Brown, assistant pastor of St. John's A.M.E. Church in West Topoka, Kansas. It was his indignation, back in the summer of 1951, that produced the key suit. His 9-year-old daughter Linda was compelled to go 20 blocks to the black Monroe School, while the white Sumner school was only four blocks away.

Brown himself died in 1961 at 42. Linda grew up, married

Charles P. Smith, a lawyer, and died down to modern times. Topoka, where the case was heard, is now a small town. The State Division of Vehicles, Bar business in the National Civil Liberties Company. They have been driven, a boy of six and a girl of four.

Young Chickie finished kindergarten in the same school. Ironically, the school, once black, under prescribed by Federal rights officials, is now an integrated school. It is not at least 50 white.

By this definition of the South's Negro, now attend integrated rooms, in Mississippi, Louisiana, and still the percentage is still 8 per cent. During this phenomenon of "re-segregation" has appeared in the schools, which were equally divided in 1954, now per cent black today. In land, Pittsburgh, Gary, Ohio, Oakland, St. Louis, the Civil Rights Commission has observed, the year not produced less segregation.

Sic transit gloria mundi. The legal principles laid by the court have become in American law, but the educational revolution scheduled 15 years ago has still way to go.

Report from capitol

-Senator John Stennis -

President Nixon has completed what is popularly known in the press as his first 100 days in the White House, and I think the President, with some notable exceptions, has gotten off to a relatively good start.

This first 100 days has been somewhat slow, and perhaps that is good. There has been no great rush to enact massive legislative programs as in the past, nor have there been proposals to start numerous new federal agencies.

It appears that there has been more of a tendency to settle down and work out some of the kinks in already existing programs. This is a good trend, and I think even more pruning should be done.

I believe that the President's Cabinet officials are distinguishing the Nixon Administration.

Attorney General John Mitchell, for instance, is an outstanding lawyer who has steel in his spine. He believes in the theory of law and order and in the principles needed to bring about that law and order.

We have a Secretary of Defense of equal caliber in Melvin Laird, with whom I come in frequent close contact as Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. I have known Mr. Laird for some time now and his dedication and sense of duty are beyond reproach.

I regret to say not all the developments in the Nixon Administration have been for the good. For instance, I was deeply disappointed that President Nixon and his administration decided not to change the guidelines after making some aging remarks to the Congress.

I also have been disturbed over a few appointments in the Department of Education and Welfare, which have opposed these nominees primarily because I believe they represent a threat to school system.

Of course, I am not up in this matter, and I continue to wage the battle have these guidelines modified in order to serve education in parts of the state.

The problems facing education are serious and many, and I think the Nixon Administration has begun relatively in combatting these problems.

Clement B. Penrose

Clement B. Penrose, 87, retired cotton broker with the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, died at 1:45 a.m. Monday, May 19, in Hancock General Hospital.

A native of New Orleans and a resident of Waveland for approximately 50 years, Mr. Penrose was a member of Christ Episcopal Church.

He was formerly active in the Boston Club of New Orleans, New Orleans Athletic Club and Southern Yacht Club.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Belle Harris Penrose, Waveland; two sons, Norvin H. Penrose, Waveland, and Clement B. Penrose Jr., New Orleans; five grandchildren, one great-granddaughter and a sister, Mrs. Camille Blann, Covington, La.

Funeral services were held from Christ Episcopal Church Monday afternoon with the Rev. Charles R. Johnson, rector, officiating. Interment was in Waveland Cemetery.

ASCS Reminds Farmers

Farmers in Pearl River and Hancock Counties are reminded that the "No Grazing" for land diverted from production under the 1965 Feed Grain Program started May 1, 1969. It will continue for the following five months until October 1, 1969.

Producers who are diverting land under the program have agreed not to graze the acreage being diverted during the specific five month period of the growing season and not to harvest a crop from the acreage at any time during the year. The harvesting provision also includes cutting hay from the acreage.

Farmers taking part in the Conservation Reserve Program have agreed not to graze or harvest crops from acreage diverted under this program during the five month period. These provisions are important to producers because any violation of them may result in reduction or total loss of payments otherwise earned under these programs.

Pearl River and Hancock County producers agreed to participate in the 1969 Feed Grain Program number about 390.

EC to Study into Tag Plan

The Communications Committee of the Mississippi Economic Council today initiated a study of the merits of standing Mississippi's automobiles by color and symbol. Ed Turbeville of Jackson, Public Relations Manager South Central Bell Telephone Company and chairman of the MEC general committee, a standardized automobile would help identify Mississippians to others around the state and could become an excellent public relations piece for the state.

A special committee was appointed to begin immediate work on the project and will be headed by John Holland of Jackson. Additional special committees were authorized to work on the promotion of the state's Speakers Bureau and the "Let's Talk Mississippi" program. George Keith of Carthage is head of the Special Committee ministering the Speakers Bureau, while the Special Committee on "Let's Talk Mississippi" will be under the direction of Marshall Grady of McComb.

Glen Jes of Yazoo City will serve as chairman of the general committee. During the course of the meeting the committee heard reports on several programs sponsored by the group. Also a motion picture about the EC, which was produced last year, was shown to the group. Members of the Communications Committee are: William A. Jones, Jackson; Lamar Beaman, Jackson; John D. Law Enforcement Advisory Council Holds Meeting

Sheriffs, mayors and city managers throughout Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Pearl River and Stone Counties attended an organizational meeting of the Advisory Council which will assist in the formulation of a planning and action program relative to the Local Law Enforcement Assistance provisions of the Omnibus Crime and Safe Streets Act of 1968. The meeting was held in the Courtroom of the Harrison County Family Court, just off Pass Road in the vicinity of the Hardy Court Shopping Center in Meek, University; Luther L. Millsaps, Aberdeen; John Mullin, Jackson; Marvin Rouben, Hattiesburg; Paul Schilling, Natchez; W. C. Shoemaker, Kosciusko; J. Ed Turbeville, Jackson; and E. F. Warren, III, Jackson.

Gulfport Wednesday. The Advisory Council is required by law, and will assist the Gulf Regional Planning Commission in fulfilling various provisions of the Act. The Commission was designated by the Office of the Governor as administering agency for District XI, which includes Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Pearl River and Stone Counties. Funding is provided by the Federal Government through the State Division of Law Enforcement Assistance.

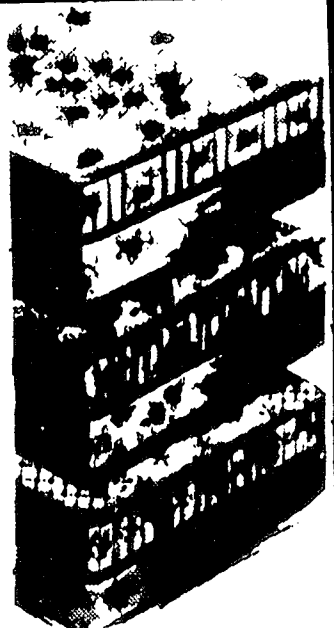

Staff of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission explained the program and the role of the Commission as the coordinating agency for the District. Membership on the Advisory Council is based upon population, and should be broadly representative of all law enforcement agencies, courts, municipal and other government, the legal profession, and the general public. At least initially, distribution of membership to the Advisory Council is set at: Harrison County, 5; Jackson County, 3; Hancock, Pearl River and Stone Counties, 1 each.

The objectives of the program was to inventory existing facilities and capabilities, formulate long-range improvement programs which will include both personnel training and physical improvements, and achieve greater coordination among all of the entities which play a role in prevention, as well as solution and correction, of activities involving infractions of the law or posing threats to the safety and well-being of citizens.

Record Offering Given By Waveland Baptists

The membership of First Baptist Church, Waveland, continues to rejoice as records continue to be set in missions giving.

In a recent emphasis on Home Missions and the Annie Armstrong Easter Offering for Home Missions, the church again surpassed the goal of $230.00 by giving $242.43. Interest and participation in all activities of the church has shown a continuous growth under the leadership of the present pastor, Joe L. Hasson. This marked the fifth consecutive time such a special offering goal has been surpassed - in fact, every one the church has had - since he came as pastor.

A comparison of the records will show how much progress the church has made over the past two years. In 1967, the amount that was given to this same offering emphasis was $90; in 1968, the goal was $100, and the total given was $208; and the 1969 figures are given above. Also, in 1968 the fiscal budget was over subscribed. All mission gifts by the church totaled $366 in 1967; in 1968, the total was $190; and through April, 1969, the total is $1752. (The figures stated for all mission gifts represent the church year which is different from the fiscal year but represents twelve (12) months.)

One can well see why there is rejoicing among the members of this church. The pastor says, "We are very thankful to the Lord that He has blessed our church as he has, and we continue to pray that we will be able to continue in this spirit so we can express our love and concern for all mankind in this way."

Waveland Baptist Set Bible School

Vacation Bible School is scheduled to begin at First Baptist Church, Waveland, on Friday at 8:30 a.m. This is a change from the time that was given last week due to the fact that the public schools will be giving report cards at the time as stated last week. Preparation Day (enrollment day) activities will continue until 10:30 a.m. Parents are urged to bring their children ages three (3) through sixteen (16) years for the special activities and enrollment on Friday so regular activities can begin on schedule Monday, May 26.

The regular schedule consists of three hours of study each morning from 8:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, May 26, through June 6. A school picnic is being planned for Friday afternoon, May 30, as well as Parents' Night for Friday, June 6, when the parents will be able to view movie films of their children at work in the school.

"The study members are well trained and qualified to lead and teach in the school," says the pastor, Joe L. Haxson. "The principal, Mrs. Bernice R. Ferrell, and the superintendents have worked hard with the teachers to prepare for the school in which they are expecting a record enrollment and attendance."

The school is free of charge to the public, and all youth of the Waveland area who are of the ages stated above are welcomed and urged to take advantage of this time of study of God's Word and missionary work around the world. You will be able to study in air conditioned comfort.

Mental Health Committee

Mrs. Opal F. Smith of Biloxi will head the 1969 Mental Health Month Committee. It was announced recently by Harry R. Allen, president of the Gulf Coast Association for Mental Health.

The Annual observance is part of National Mental Health Month conducted throughout the country by Mental Health Associations and other community organizations.

Mrs. Smith is a charter member of the Gulf Coast Association and has been a member of the Board of Directors since its organization in 1960. She has served on many of its committees and presently is secretary of the Association.

Mrs. Smith came to the Gulf Coast from Chicago in 1952 and since that time she and her daughter Dorothy have owned and operated Paul's Mobile Home Park on Biloxi's West Beach. She organized the first Mobile Home Park Association in Mississippi and served as its president for five years. She served one year as president of the Mississippi Mobile Home Association and is now vice president of the Mobile Home Park Association.

In addition to her extensive Mental Health and Mobile home activities, Mrs. Smith is a member of the Biloxi Business and Professional Women's Club; the Gulf Coast Court #1 of the Order of Amaranth, Inc.; and Square Chapter Number 764 Order of the Eastern Star. Her church affiliation is with the First Christian Church of Gulfport.

The Committee's work which will highlight the science of service and social programs of the Gulf Coast Association for Mental Health will be conducted during the month of May - National Mental Health Month.

Ancient Indian Culture Unearthed in Hancock County

By Charles Hatchfield
One poverty point culture, and one late archaic site charred dated 1200 and 1400 B.C. respectively located on the east bank of Pearl River at Mulatto Bayou, and is the site of the Hancock County Port and Harbor. One site is known as a Cedar Land Plantation site, found by Dr. Sherwood M. Gagliano of Coastal Studies Institute, L.S.U., Baton Rouge, La. The other site known as the Claiborne site, approximately 1/2 mile south of the Cedar Land Plantation site was found by Charles Hatchfield, president of the Mississippi Gulf Coast chapter of the Mississippi Archaeological Association, and Bob Lowry, Gulfport, vice president of the State M.A.A. Southern District.

These two sites are part of a culture that existed before the time of Christ and many artifacts from these sites indicate the people were many in number, and lived in thatched huts and teepees. No human bones were found indicating cremation or bodies carried elsewhere for burial. Numerous types of stone and metal, not related to this area, have been found at these sites.

Indications are these people were great hunters and fishermen. Bones recovered are deer, bear, wildcat, opossum, bison, as well as many smaller animals. The fish were of shark and gar variety and were trapped by blocking the entrances to small canals.

Many bird bones were found, but the chief diet of the people seemed to be ducks, geese, quail, and wild turkey.

When these people arrived at these sites, they brought with them huge cooking bowls made of stoneware or soapstone. One whole pot, and eight reassembled pots have been found by the past president of the Piquette chapter of the M.A.A. while assisting the coast chapter in these excavations. The largest one of the pots measured fourteen inches in height and twelve inches in diameter. After the stone pots were broken other means were devised for cooking food.

This is indicated by the numerous amounts of shaped baked clay balls. Over ten thousand such balls have been classified. They are thought to have been used by being heated and dropped directly into food that previously had been prepared and placed in an animal skin. The skin pots were prepared by a concave hole in the ground lined with cooking stones.

Numerous spear and arrow points have been found. Some dating back seven thousand years. Corsets, plummets, beads, banner stones, bone needles, hairpins, rings, and boatstones are also amongst the treasures from the diggings. Dr. Clarence Webb, one of the noted authors and archaeologists, along with the late Dr. Ford, did much research with

Mr. B. L. Jones of Gulfport does a lot of tile work in the Bay-Waveland area and when he was in need of a new truck he decided to check at Lamar-Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis because he heard and read about all the very good deals offered by them on new cars and trucks. At Lamar-Lane Chevrolet he was met by their salesman Herb Baron who gave him a price that was at least $100.00 lower than he was offered elsewhere. Mr. Jones of Gulfport found out that it was well worth his while visiting Lamar-Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis and is very happy with his new Chevy 3/4 ton pick-up truck, he was given a good deal and treated very nice by their salesman Herb Baron and he recommends Herb to all of his friends. If you are in need of a new car, truck (large or small) or station wagon, the place to go is Lamar-Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis. (A GERRY LANE ENTERPRISE) ADV.

OLD NEWSPAPERS WELCOME

Many years the Brothers of St. Augustine's Seminary collected old newspapers to sell for the benefit of the seminary. We are grateful to our long and faithful clients, and we are now able to offer you a new service. The newspapers can be deposited in the seminary on Ruella next to our truck garage. If you cannot come to the seminary, just ask any of the Fathers, Novices, Brothers or Sisters to direct you.

An increasing amount of work at the seminary and the need for more newspapers has made it necessary for us to pick up the paper. We are now able to offer you a new service. The newspapers can be deposited in the seminary on Ruella next to our truck garage. If you cannot come to the seminary, just ask any of the Fathers, Novices, Brothers or Sisters to direct you.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all our clients for their interest and help in the past, and at the same time to make new ones who would like to bring their newspapers to our paper shed on Ruella at the seminary.

B-W Yacht Club Wins Trophy

This past weekend the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, represented by Ray and Ann Stiefel and Ballard Argus, won the second place trophy in the GYA Flying Scot Class at Buccaneer Yacht Club in Mobile, Alabama. The weekend was a three-race series with each of the three sailors skipping one race and crewing the other two.

The three races were excitingly different and employed some beautiful spinnaker runs! The first race, skippered by Ray Stiefel, was a beautiful stiff wind sail and was finished as a three-way close race between Gulfport, the Pass, and the Bay, with the Bay getting a very close third. The second race was skippered by Ballard Argus and was run under tornado warnings! However, the wind was a perfect one and made for a great race with the Bay-Waveland team ahead till the last leg of the race when Gulfport inched out for first and Argus received a close second. The third race Sunday was held in extremely fluky winds ranging from almost nil to nice breezes. Ann Stiefel skippered a very good race and came in second giving us a third and two seconds and thus the second place silver goblet.

All three sailed very clean races on the Gold Cup course, and made it very exciting racing for the Bay-Waveland cheering section consisting of Patty Argus! Congratulations to three very fine sailors, and thanks from the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club for such fine participation and the trophy to be added to the Club's collection!

Local Actors in Theatre of Arts Play

The Gulf Coast Theatre of Arts will present IN THE ZONE, a one-act play by Eugene O'Neill at 8:15 on Saturday evening, May 24, at the Gulfport East High School (Courthouse Road).

Directed by Pete Chapman, the cast with one exception are actors from the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. Included are Jack Gordy, Terry Malone, Hank Stockman, Mac Haas, Jay Rosato, Matt Ames, and the director himself, with Rudy Hurlbert of Gulfport.

This one-night-only performance of the play is open to the public.

Garden Club Meets

Large hats, small hats, comic hats, original hats, all were the order of the day when the Lakeshore Garden Club held its annual hat show and luncheon on Thursday May 15th, at the Roadview Restaurant.

The private dining room was gay with beautiful flowered hats, designed and worn by the members and their guests.

After a short business meeting, the hats were modeled, and the show was ably commented by Mrs. Helen White. The winners were Mrs. Marion Cave, comic; Mrs. Jimmie Richardson, small; Mrs. Irene Craft, large; and Mrs. Eva Warner won the entrance prize, a beautiful plant, arranged in a colorful straw garden hat.

Hats off to Mrs. Helen White and Mrs. Marion Cave who planned the event.

Southern Mississippi Fine Arts Festival

There will be something for everyone at the seventeenth annual summer-long Southern Fine Arts Festival at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Applauded as an inexpensive performing vacation for junior and senior high school students, the complete program includes musical theatre, bands (concert, stage, and marching), twirling, and dance, including ballet.

The Summer Musical Theatre begins June 2 and continues through August 2. Students participating in this program will be involved in all aspects of production of two hit "Broadway" musicals. Names and dates of these two productions will be announced in the near future.

The Twirling, Ballet, and Dance Camp lasts one week, June 13 to June 19. It includes a choice of classes in twirling, strutting, drum majoring, ballet, modern dance, musical comedy dance, dance history, and performance. This camp is primarily for instruction, study and practice on fundamentals and new group routines, and gives majorities an opportunity to improve their performance as a unit.

The two-week Southern Band Camp begins on July 20 and continues through August 2. Campers will study and perform in concert bands, ensembles, stage bands, orchestras, and marching bands. There will be specialized section rehearsals as well as band rehearsals, and a choice of classes in music theory, conducting, and music literature.

All bands and ensembles are conducted by recognized leaders in the field and campers will have the opportunity to work under a nationally famous guest conductor as well as University directors.

The final camp is August 3 to 9 and will include instruction and individual competition in such areas as twirling (solo, ensemble, corps, and two-baton), strutting, flag, fire, drum majoring, modern jazz, acrobatics, and modeling. Miss Southern Majorette (15 years of age and older) and Miss Southern Junior Majorette (11 to 14) will be chosen on the basis of performance in twirling, strutting, swim suit and talent.

In addition to beautiful trophies, a substantial scholarship to USM will go to the winner of the Miss Southern Majorette crown. Many of the present Dixie Darlings and Featurttes at Southern participated in this competition when they were in junior and senior high school.

Complete information on the entire Southern Fine Arts Festival can be obtained by writing Box 31, Southern Station, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39401.

Campers can be either dormitory or day students. Applications should be sent in as early as possible since this summer's enrollment is being limited.

In addition to the regular program in each camp, a well-balanced recreation program is also offered.

Pharmacy Seminar

Set for Jackson

A pharmacy seminar for hospital administrators will be held in Jackson June 12 by the Mississippi Hospital Association, in cooperation with the U.S. Public Health Service.

H. J. Blackledge, Bay St. Louis, chairman of the MHA Council on Professional Practice, said the program is designed as a "thorough day of educational attainment" and added:

"We will evaluate the various forces affecting the hospital administrator in dealing with drug distribution problems. Administrators, hospital pharmacists and nursing service directors should make every effort to attend."

Blackledge, who is administrator of Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis, pointed out that Mississippi hospitals are undertaking expansion and renovation programs in order to modernize and increase their operational efficiency.

"The proper storage, distribution and use of pharmaceuticals," said Blackledge, "constitute a major activity of any hospital. Therefore, adequate plans for implementation of pharmaceutical services are essential for optimum patient care."

He pointed out that there are "legal, administrative and economic considerations, as well as professional ones," in planning pharmaceutical services and facilities.

Talks giving the point of view of hospital administrator, attorney, nurse and pharmacist will be given, respectively, by James G. Williams, administrator of Glyn-Brunswick Memorial Hospital in Brunswick, Georgia; Jay Hedgepeth, Jackson attorney and MHA general counsel; Alice Keesee, Ph. D., Tampa, Florida, dean of the School of Nursing at Southern Florida University; and Charles M. King, Jr., Birmingham, Alabama, director of pharmacy at the University of Alabama Hospital and Clinic.

All speeches are scheduled for the morning session.

Following a noon luncheon, specialized workshops will be held for administrators, nurses and pharmacists, during which local problems will be discussed and questions answered.

Co-sponsors of the workshop include the School of Phar-

LANCE CPL. JAMES J. STIEFFEL II

Cpl. James Stieffel Accidentally Killed

Marine Lance Cpl. James Johnston Stieffel II, 22, a native of Bay St. Louis, accidentally was shot to death Tuesday at Quantico, Va., by a fellow serviceman.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Our Lady of Peace Church in Vachette, with the Rev. Thomas Allain officiating.

Interment was in the church's cemetery. Arrangements handled by Oursso Funeral Home of Donaldsonville.

Cpl. Stieffel, a military policeman at Quantico, was a graduate of Bay High School.

Before joining the U.S. Marine Corps in June, 1967, he worked in the electrical department of Avondale Shipyards, Inc.

After basic training at Camp Lejeune, N.C., and at Parris Island, S.C., he was sent to the Third Marine Division in Vietnam.

In Vietnam, he was wounded January, 1968, by shrapnel while he was rescuing two of his buddies. He returned to the United States last December and went to Quantico.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Sandra Delatte Stieffel; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stieffel of Waveland, Miss.; seven sisters, Mrs. Thomas Silbermeyer, Mrs. Steven Bateman, Mrs. Edward A. Bourgeois, Mrs. Maurice Olivier, Miss Ida Stieffel and Miss Agatha Stieffel of New Orleans and Miss Myra Stieffel of Waveland, and four brothers, Emile L. Stieffel and Kenneth J. Stieffel of New Orleans, Marine Cpl. Robert D. Stieffel, now in Vietnam, and Thomas F. Stieffel of Waveland, cousin of Herbert L. and Ray H. Stieffel.

ELECTIONS COME AND elections go and for the most part we to make comments which could be construed as having political implications. The only time anyone seeking office is mentioned in this column is when he, like any other citizen, does something which we think our readers will find interesting.

IN FACT, BY the time this goes to press, the last votes in the run-off election will have been counted, victories will have been celebrated, and only a poster hanging somewhere will remain as a reminder of the heated campaign of '69. As always, we're writing these lines well in advance, so haven't the faintest idea what the final results will be, and wouldn't have dared broach the subject had we not received several phone calls from Bay residents who, considering themselves legally registered voters, stood in line last Tuesday to cast their ballots, only to discover that their names were not on the books at city hall.

BEFORE ANYONE has time to suspect foul play, we'll hasten to explain that no one was really to blame for the lost votes. Once again Mississippi's rather unusual, to say the least, election laws caused the foul up. In most states one merely registers once at a designated location - not so in our fair state. It is necessary to sign one's name at the courthouse to enable one to help elect a candidate in county and national elections - AND one must also register at the city or town hall in a municipality to vote in city or town elections. Most native Mississippians are naturally aware of this technicality, although we know of at least one prominent young man who had been living in a neighboring state for several years, forgot about registering twice when he returned to the coast, and was caught in the 'trap' just as completely as many newcomers have been. We realize that these words are written much too late to help those who were deprived of their constitutional rights in the last couple of weeks, but Wavelanders will march to the polls come 1970, and the following year county office seekers will be meeting new opponents. If you have neglected to add your name to both lists of registered voters, do it now! After all, one of our favorite local past-times is criticizing maneuvers of duly elected officials, and if you can't mark your little X by the man of your choice when the polls next open, you really won't have the right to complain after the last ballot has been tallied.

THE LAKEWOOD DRIVE home of Frank and Urban Stork was the most appropriate setting for a surprise shower Thursday, honoring Cathy (Mrs. Sam) Reitz, whose baby may have arrived by the time the Echo goes to press - that is, if one can place any faith in the predictions of Cathy's outboard! A lovely luncheon was served and the honoree cut the elaborately decorated pink and blue cake, after which she opened a number of useful gifts including a very sturdy high chair featuring a brightly flowered tray. Hostesses were fellow members of the Thursday bridge club, to wit: Faye, of course; Linda (Mrs. John) Grove, Lou (Mrs. John) Williamson, Hazel (Mrs. Claude) Tracey, Claire (Mrs. John) Stack, Betty (Mrs. Al) Tillman, Alyce (Mrs. Jack) Newkirk and Rose (Mrs. Wylie) Cole.

THE FIRST official project of the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary since the organization has acquired full accreditation will be the rummage and white elephant sale to be held Saturday, May 24, at Winn-Dixie Shopping near Gulf Thriftway. Proceeds will be used for the Summer Fun House which moved such a success when first opened to the public last year.

AMONG THOSE enjoying delicious barbecued chicken, baked beans, etc., at the May luncheon-benefit given by the Sodality of St. Clare's Church were: Sarah Thorning, Lottie and Garfield Ladner, Helen (Mrs. Alfred) Serio, Louise (Mrs. Dave) Markey, Aggie (Mrs. Ed) Canady, Verna (Mrs. Louis) Hindelang, Margie (Mrs. Mac) McCutcheon, Doris (Mrs. Pat) Burke, Mrs. John Isom, Ada Edell and her guests Mae and Edgar Delchize and Albert Cousin of New Orleans, Alice Matile (Mrs. Thure) Bourgeois, Gladys (Mrs. A. R.) Jenkins, Rose (Mrs. Hamilton) Guenard, Verna Salvant, May Dutriell, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Durel, Mrs. Fred Stromeyer, Delores Ladner, Lillian (Mrs. Al) Grass and many, many more.

MAJOR AND MRS. CHARLES HARVEY were 1,000 miles from Waveland when they spent last weekend in Lubbock, Tex. Major Harvey sent along a clipping from a Lubbock paper featuring a column entitled Polly's Pointers, which we must confess is somewhat more useful than our own as it is chock full of all sorts of helpful household hints.

DUE GET WELL wishes as he is a patient in U. S. Public Health Hospital in New Orleans is Charles White. We hope, however, that he will soon be discharged as his condition is reported to be much improved. Helen and Charles had as guests for a few days Mr. and Mrs. Logan Wood of Houston, Tex. The Woods popped in not knowing that Charles was hospitalized, but their visit turned out to be an excellent tonic for him.

A SIMILAR GREETING is on the way to Charles Shambley - he too is said to be on the mend. MRS. COMA PROPHIT of Monroe, La., was fêted at a number of affairs while she was the guest of Gladys (Mrs. Harold) Hicks at her Amelia Street home. Mrs. Prophit returned home Wednesday after a six week visit.

FORMER BAY residents, Gerry and Hal Dedoff are due to arrive from St. Louis, Mo. Friday. They will be guests of Evelyn and Charlie Cox, and one of the purposes of their visit is to attend the wedding Friday night of Sue Wood, who was their favorite baby sister when they made their home here.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS, all belated, are sent to Pat (Mrs. Charlie) Butler who was 29 again on May 12, to Freddie Layne who was the same age the following day, to Nora Knight, who cut her cake on May 21, to Roy O'Toole, but we're not certain of the exact date upon which he celebrated said, to Gerry Von Amis who was presented a mini-cake on the occasion, Friday, May 17.

Bay Homemakers

Met Thursday

Sixteen members and three guests answered the roll call with a helpful hint when the Bay St. Louis Extension Homemakers Club met last Thursday at the Agriculture Center.

Mrs. Leroy Luke, president, led the devotional which was read by the group, and conducted the business session.

Mrs. Leo Taconi, secretary, reported and Mrs. Harris Boudreaux volunteered to take over the duties of treasurer in place of Mrs. Harry Ward who resigned.

It was noted that Mrs. Jeanne Williams will report club news for the Mississippi Home-Makers Magazine.

A report of the previous annual meeting was given by Mrs. O. D. Dyer who also told of the success of the annual flower and vegetable show. Mrs. Dyer added plans are being formulated for a county fair in the fall.

Leon Paulette, Area Extension Agent, discussed and showed slides on Community Beautification.

The group voted to have a luncheon in lieu of the June meeting. The affair will be held June 13 at 8 a. and 8:30 p. m. and members attending will meet at the Agriculture Center at 10 a. m.

Each member brought a salad and the recipe.

Mrs. Virgil Clanton and Mrs. Edna Walley were hosts.

Rev. Kevin Bambrick Becomes Monsignor

Rev. Kevin Bambrick, former pastor of St. Clare's Parish, Waveland, now serving as pastor of Nativity BVM Parish, Biloxi, was invested with the rank of Monsignor in ceremonies at the church last Friday evening.

Most Rev. Joseph B. Brunini, bishop of Natchez-Jackson Diocese, principal celebrant of the Mass, blessed the robes which signify Father Bambrick's new rank.

Rev. Noel Foley read the Papal Letter of appointment from Pope Paul VI which cited Monsignor Bambrick's "outstanding service to the church in Mississippi."

Following the robing ceremony, Monsignor made a formal profession of faith.

A number of St. Clare's parishioners attended the ceremonies and reception.

Before I had a chance to say, "Guess who," Jack knew it was I. We're like that — maybe it's because we're twins.

We've always been close. When we were small, we had a private adventureland out in our back woods. Hardly a day went by that Jack didn't help me out of some scrape. He was the one who was able to entice me down from that tree when I fell halfway from the top—and lay paralyzed with fright between two branches. I bailed him out of several misadventures, too.

When it came to college—we chose the same one. And it's been nice. Every now and then we get together and talk out our problems, just as we always have. We go to church together, too.

We're glad Mom and Dad made the Church an important part of our lives. When we think of graduation and the inevitable parting of our ways, it's good to know that each of us has an ever-present source of strength and guidance in God and His Church.

"DON'T YOU KNOW A LADLE FROM A SPOON?" Burt Barrett and Lloyd Wilson rehearse a hilarious scene from THE ODD COUPLE opening next Thursday, May 29th, at the Little Theatre. Directed by Mrs. Mary Carter, Barrett and Wilson star in the roles made famous in the movie version by Walter Matthau and Jack Lemmon.

MR. NORVIN PENROSE OF WAVELAND ACCEPTS DELIVERY OF HIS NEW PICK-UP FROM LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET SALESMAN FRITZ PERANICH

I have been buying cars from my old friend Fritz Peranich for about thirty five years. Now that I need a pick-up truck I checked around several dealers and again I came to Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and my friend Fritz Peranich, who offered me the best deal. Over the years I have been very well pleased with the service I get from Lamar-Lane. I am also a person that likes to buy at home whenever possible. If you are in need of a new car, truck or station wagon, the place to go is Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and ask for Fritz Peranich.

115th Commencement At St. Stanislaus

Commencement exercises of the 115th graduating class of St. Stanislaus High School, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, took place on Saturday, May 17, 1969, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Msgr. James J. Hannon celebrated the Mass and Rev. Adrian G. Mercier, editor of the Mississippi Register, delivered the commencement address. Brother Roland Smith, S. C., president, and Brother Lee Barker, S. C., principal of St. Stanislaus, were also present in the sanctuary.

Following the conferring of diplomas upon the fifty-eight members of the graduating class and the members of the Golden Jubilee Class of 1919, Brother Roland Smith presented the awards to the following graduates: Stanford Ladner, the American Legion Award; Michael Meyers, the Character Cup for a day student; William Mashburn, the Character Cup for a resident student; Paul Gravolet, the Character Award for a resident student; Robert Becker, the Conduct Award for a resident student; Andrew Ladner, the John Philip Souza Band Award; Frank Cotter, Excellence in Business Subjects; David Sawyer, Excellence in the Humanities; Stanford Ladner, Excellence in Social Science; and

Telephone Directory Closes June 10

The new Mississippi Coast Telephone Directory will close on the 10th of next month. This will allow less than one month for telephone users on the Coast to make additions and changes in their listings, according to D. H. Presley, Group Manager for South Central Bell.

The new issue will be printed in more than 128 thousand copies. This compares with something more than 112 thousand copies last year. This is an increase of better than 11 percent. Presley pointed out that these figures do not represent the number of telephones in the exchange served by the directory for many of these directories will be needed for replacement and new telephones.

The directory, as before, will carry the listings of the Bay St. Louis, Biloxi, Gulfport, Ocean Springs, Vancleave, Pass Christian, Standard, and Pearl River. He urges those who plan to add, change or discontinue listings to do so promptly and not wait until the last minute. This will reduce the possibility of error in making these changes.

ROBERT V. MAGEE, Principal, Bay Junior High School announced the 1969-70 cheerleading squad. The school's Guidance Counselor, Mr. W. J. Cameron and the student narrator, Shelly Johnston, conducted the election by the student body. The cheerleaders are: L-R Becky Boudreaux, representing the seventh grade; representing the ninth grade will be Anna Jean Landon and Debby Rye; Lisa White and Mary Ellen Minchew will represent the eighth grade.

ROCKY BYRD, left, and Frank Branch, presented the Distinguished American Award to T. D. Dobie Holden last Friday night in Biloxi.

The award was presented by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame at its first annual banquet. It will be presented annually to the former player who has carried the lessons learned on the football field into a life of service to the community. Holden, who has dedicated over 45 years to the game as player and coach, was the first recipient of the award by the local chapter.

Byrd and Branch both played quarterback for Holden the year he gave Pascagoula high its first and only Big-8 Championship.

Dennis Raymond, Excellence in Mathematics and Science, The President's Trophy, the highest award given to a graduating senior of St. Stanislaus, was awarded to Michael Gemelli.
